Dear Ms. Greco,

I am writing to express my interest in the Senior Back-End Developer position in InchesWeb. Your company's well regarded reputation for creating some of the most visited, useful, and breath-taking websites, immediately caught my attention.

In my current role as a Junior Back-End Developer, I have achieved notable improvements by providing a revolutionary database system for user queries inside our company's inside system. I would like to point out that I developed an inside app for employees to be able to receive help requests from our users, reducing queries by 20% and response times by up to 50%, showing my commitment to delivering tangible, measurable improvements.

Your company's motto of learning continuously resonates with the way I usually approach all aspects of life. After noticing some technical challenges, I initiated a company-wide training program for all employees to be able to use the help requests platform efficiently and effectively that reduced initial training times by 2 weeks.

Furthermore, I am aligned with InchesWeb's inclusive ethos. In my current role, I implemented accessibility features in our main system as well as the inside app such as settings that enable users to enlarge icons and even a screen narrator. Another little detail I had in mind while developing the inside app was avoiding colours that could be problematic for colour-blind people. I am confident that my proven track record in improving a company's overall efficiency in the office, coupled with a shared commitment to innovation and inclusivity, will significantly elevate the quality of your workplace as well as easing the employees' minds.

I would love to have the opportunity to discuss more in detail how my capabilities align with the specific needs of InchesWeb. Please feel free to contact me at your earliest convenience to schedule an interview.

Thank you for considering my application. I am eager to bring my skills, experience and passion for excellence to your team.
